TO THE VOTERS.

Hon. W. J. Fields Issues a Card.

Candidate for Congress in Ninth District Explains Why He Has Not Made Thorough Canvass.

To the voters of the Ninth Congressional District of Kentucky:—When I received the Democratic nomination for Congress, I fully intended to make such a canvass of the district that I would be able to meet practically all the voters and personally solicit their support. Soon after the convention I commenced the canvass, but early in September I was stricken with fever, and was confined to my room for almost six weeks. I have now fully recovered, but the time is so short from now until the election that I will not have time to have the pleasure and privilege of seeing all the voters of the district. Please take my wish to do so for the act.

I am receiving very encouraging reports from all parts of the district, as to the outlook for victory, and I have no doubt, if the proper energy is put forth by those who favor my election, that my success is assured, and I earnestly ask that they use every effort to get my entire vote to the polls on Nov. 8th. I promise, if elected, to devote my entire time and energy and abilities to the duties of the office.

Yours very truly,
W. J. FIELDS.

Joint Debates in the Tenth.

Hon. Floyd Byrd and Congressman John Langley have been enlivening things in the Tenth district by holding joint debates. Large crowds are attracted and the interest is getting to be intense. Mr. Byrd seems to have the majority of the crowds in line with him. They spoke at Prestonsburg Tuesday and Byrd's supporters became so enthusiastic over the way he handled his end of the debate that they carried him on their shoulders and made a great demonstration generally. If the trend of the enthusiasm shows anything it indicates that Byrd will be elected.

Handsomely Entertained.

On last Friday afternoon Mrs. J. J. Johnson, of Pikeville, entertained a large number of friends at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carey. The form of the function was flinch, supplemented by delightful refreshments. The tally "cards" were tiny baskets and hampers, and the failures as well as the progressions were noted. Those who progressed were rewarded by the deposit of a favor in the basket or hamper, while those who remained at the tables received a miniature lemon. Some accumulated nearly a crate of the citrus fruit.

Nat Bloom Dead.

Several weeks ago this paper regretfully chronicled the physical misfortunes which had befallen Nat Bloom, the popular and well known traveling man of Cincinnati. He had been a paralytic many months, and when gangrene showed itself in his sound side and amputation of the sound foot became necessary his indomitable spirit refused to surrender. On his bed of pain and distress Nat wrote cards to his many friends, saying he would soon be out to see them. But death was strong and relentless, and on Sunday last he joined the Silent Hosts. Poor Nat! Peace to his ashes.

Two More Oil Wells.

It is reported that two wells will be drilled soon for oil or gas in the Peach Orchard or Nat's Creek section of this county. Levi Jones has made a deal on a lot of leases held by him and the contract provides for the drilling of two wells.

HON. W. J. FIELDS, CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

The Blankenship Case.

Pete Blankenship waived examination at Prestonsburg on the charge of stealing a lot of shoes, report of which incident was published in our last issue. The grand jury is now in session there and will investigate the charge.

Sol Crabtree was released on his own recognizance and summoned to appear as a witness. Also, there is nothing in the charge at first made against Jack Crabtree. These young men have always been honest and straightforward. The shoes they have were procured in an entirely legitimate way and in no way compromises their honor.

Tom Blankenship was also arrested in this case because some of the stolen goods were found in his house. We learn that he has given bond and that the charges against him are not likely to be sustained.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

To be Given Next Monday Night at The Rink.

A company composed of the young ladies of the M. E. Church South, of which Miss Bessie Snyder is captain, will give a Halloween party on next Monday evening at the skating rink. Supper will be served for 25 cents, beginning at 6:30. Following is the official announcement.

All Saints Celebration.

Very artistic pumpkin shape, water color invitations are out, bidding friends of the M. E. Church South to a Halloween party, and it is hoped that young, middle aged and those growing old will enter into the spirit of the occasion, don sheet and pillow case and sally forth to the weird merry-making where you may go and learn "fate's concern" and partake of Mystic Mixture, Oriental Offering, Witches' Brew and Jack-o'-lantern Pies. Lend your presence to a good cause.

The invitation reads: "Hear Ye, O Hear Ye!" Jack the Herald cries, "Come around on Halloween to the great surprise. There'll be fun and in-pish gee. Haste and join our company." Come masked.

Only Four Thousand!

Maysville people are sending out the news that four thousand geese were recently shipped from that village. Nine thousand geese were here in one pen four or five years ago, and nobody except those who resided within a mile of the enclosure thought anything about it.

Has Come to Hot Springs.

Mr. George Hooper, manager of the Coca Cola Bottling Plant, left Louisa for Hot Springs, Ark., to be treated for sciatic neuralgia. He will be gone several weeks.

An Up to Date Stock Man.

In February last Mr. D. H. Johnson, of Whites Creek, W. Va., father of Mrs. H. G. Wellman, of this city bought 50 head of 2-year-old Aberdeen Angus cattle at the Chicago stock yards and shipped them to his farm as feeders. When he bought them their average weight was 745 pounds. About two weeks ago Mr. Johnson sold these cattle at home for $5.85 per hundred weight. At the time of sale their average weight was 1098 pounds. Here was a gain of 17,550 pounds of good flesh in the short space of eight months. You stock men who know what 2-year-old cattle were worth in February last can easily figure Mr. Johnson's profit on his investment. He is an up to date stock raiser, familiar with all the details of the business. He has several head of full blooded Hereford cows and heifers, purchased from the famous Ingleside stock farm.

Many of our stock men are now buying feeders in the Chicago market and holding them on their own farms until they are fit for sale as beef cattle, and they have found the practice a remunerative one.

Children's Day Association

Every large city in the United States has institutions and associations devoted to the care and welfare of children. They are of various names, and some are denominational, but the aim of all is the same. Among these the Children's Day Association of Chicago, takes high rank. It is a specialized body having a definite purpose in the charitable and ethical life of the city, and its paramount object is the preservation of the family ties, the home spirit, to see, if the Association can prevent it, that no good mother loses her children to an institution for no other crime save that of poverty.

The News feels a just pride in the fact that a native Big Sandian is intimately connected with so laudable an association, in fact is its head. Mrs. L. L. Funk, a sister of Mr. John Gartin, of this city, is the president of the Children's Day Association. She is also chairman of the executive committee and of the committee on emergency and aid. Mrs. Funk expresses the hope that very soon she will be able to visit her old Kentucky home.

Mrs. James Kehoe Dead.

The many friends of former Congressman James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, will be sorry to learn that his estimable wife died at her home in that city early last Wednesday morning. She had suffered several years from an incurable malady, the most heroic measures being able to afford only temporary relief.

Mrs. Kehoe was born in Maysville 46 years ago, and is survived by a devoted husband and five children who mourn a loss which is beyond repair.

SENATOR PAYNTER

Addressed Lawrence County Voters Yesterday.

Made an Able Speech at Louisa and Will go to Prestonsburg on Friday.

The irony of fate was never more strikingly shown than on Thursday. The weather for about two months had been ideal, all events in this town having been greeted with clear skies and favoring breezes. Thursday was Senator Paynter's day in Louisa, and lowering skies, chill winds and weeping clouds signaled his coming. Then, too, the notice sent out by the State Central Committee reached Louisa too late for publication in the NEWS of last week and the County Committee was compelled to depend upon the circulation of hand bills to advertise the Senator's coming.

Under such unfavorable circumstances it was not expected that the distinguished gentleman would have an audience at all commensurate with the man and the occasion.

Judge Paynter came in on the morning train from Ashland and was escorted to the Brunswick, where he rested until the hour for speaking arrived. Then, in the Court House, and to a crowd larger than was expected under the circumstances he spoke in his forcible and attractive way concerning the great issues of the hour. As a logical, forceful and understandable speaker Senator Paynter has few equals. He is an able man, well posted in all public questions and affairs, and this ability, coupled with his long experience in both houses of Congress, enables him to make such an exposition of the questions of the hour as not many public men are able to give.

Senator Paynter is doing splendid work for Kentucky Democracy, and it is regretted very much that the court house could not be packed on the occasion of his coming.

Senator Paynter remained in this city until Friday morning, when he went to Prestonsburg, where he spoke in the interest of Floyd Byrd.

The Pay Car Again.

The pay force of the C. & O. railway has been divided, and now the old time pay car is once more seen at the smaller stations. The territory now covered by the C. & O. system is so large that this division became necessary. Mr. Hancock, so long the efficient general paymaster, continues in the service, but the Kentucky district is made a separate work and Mr. Burroughs, who for many years was Mr. Hancock's assistant, will pay in the new field. For the first time in several years the pay car went over the O. & B. S. division this week, distributing the coveted shekels as it went. It is thought that hereafter the car will be around much earlier than heretofore, probably about the 17th.

Surveying for Branch Routes.

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 21.—Engineers are surveying for branch railway routes up Shelby and Elkhorn creeks, and another corps is surveying through "The Breaks," with a view of endeavoring to save several million dollars by covering the old "Three C's" route that was surveyed many years ago. It is this survey that is again being made for the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Valley with a view to extending same from Dante, Va., to Elkhorn City, Ky., where it will intersect with the O. and B. S. division of the C. and O.—Pike correspondent independent.

William Burton is Better.

Messages from Will. Queen, who went to Holsington, Kans., last week to see his father-in-law, William Burton, say that he is better. If he continues to improve he will not be brought back to Kentucky.

Lexington and Eastern Extension.

General Manager William A. McDowell of the Lexington and Eastern railway officially announced that the contracts for the extension of the L. & E. to the east had been let in sections of 15 miles each, beginning at the present eastern terminus of the road, at Jackson, Breathitt county.

From the Perry county line the proposed road crosses the north fork of the Kentucky river seventeen times and it will be necessary to construct at least that number of bridges. The contractors who will build the line are expected to send their supplies and equipment to the mountains within the next week or ten days in order to take advantage of the good weather and passable road so that everything may be where it is needed when winter weather has made the mountain roads impassable.

Almost all the right of way has been obtained, without resorting to condemnation. Mr. McDowell says the people want the road and in most instances have treated it fairly and in some cases where the road had to condemn it was due to the fact that the property was owned by infant heirs. The people living along the line, realizing the value of the road to them, were not only reasonable in their demands as to the right of way, but got out and helped the road's men obtain the right of way from neighbors who had not fully made up their minds.—Lexington Herald.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

Crit Cole, aged 22, a step son of Abraham Leedy, accidentally shot himself Friday forenoon near his home in The Bend, a short distance above here. He was out gunning for rabbits, and some half hour before his body was found rigid in death, he had called to his sister to open the gate and let his dog out. As the load entered the back of his head, it is supposed he had accidentally slipped and fallen, and in some manner thereby discharged the gun, receiving the load in the back of the head.—Pike. cor. Independent.

BIG SANDIANS

Desert Their New Ohio Home Because of Mixed Schools.

Melvin Hall, the well known and popular Johnson county farmer, who a few months ago disposed of his fine farm at the mouth of Buffalo, will not locate in Ohio as at first contemplated. Mr. Hall had selected a fine farm near Portsmouth and he and Mrs. Hall went to look it over and size up the community as well. Mrs. Hall asked to see the school in the neighborhood wherein her sons and daughters were to receive their mental training. Mr. Hall accompanied her to the school house at an hour when school was in session. When they entered the building they were dumbfounded to see a number of negroes in the school and sitting with white children. The sight was too much for these Kentuckians and it was then and there settled that they would never make their home in Ohio. A small payment had been made on the farm selected by Mr. Hall, so he went at once to the owner and informed him that he could keep the amount advanced. Kentucky is good enough for Mr. and Mrs. Hall, so they say, and in Kentucky they will spend the remainder of their days.—Paintsville Herald.

Quarterly Meetings.

The following are the dates for M. E. church, South, quarterly meetings to be held this year.

Dwale ct., Dwale, Oct. 29-30; Prestonsburg Sta., Oct. 30-31; Blaine Ct., Evergreen, Nov. 5-6; Louisa Sta. Nov. 6-7; Kavanaugh Ct. Cyrus chapel, Nov. 12-13 Catlettsburg Ct., Nov. 13-14; Grassland Ct., E. Fork, Nov. 19-20; Ashland Centenary, Nov. 20-21; Catlettsburg Ct., Nov. 26-27; Ashland 1st church, Nov. 27-28; Webbville Ct., Webbville, Dev. 3-4.

Avoidable Trouble.

A recent number of a Huntington paper has a story of the arrest and imprisonment of a man about 40 years old, charged with drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons. He had been found drunk on the streets, and the pistol was found on his person. What the paper calls "a pathetic feature of the case" was the appearance of the father of the prisoner, charged with being drunk. The father gave his age as 74, and said he and his son lived in a shanty on the Big Sandy in Lawrence county, Ky. Here were two men, father and son, one in the prime of life, the other well past his allotted span of three score and ten, both in serious trouble which was easily avoided. It is doubtful if either had any business in Huntington, but granting that they had, neither had the least possible use for whiskey or a pistol. Either is bad enough, both is a combination which as a trouble-bringer is irresistible. (The wonder is that the Huntington story stops where it does. The wonder is that the "people from the shanty on the Big Sandy in Kentucky" had not killed or been killed. They had the proper equipment for a tragedy. Bullets and booze!)

Construction Began Monday.

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 21.—Construction work will be started all along the new line of the Lexington & Eastern's North Fork extension from Jackson, via Hazard and Whitesburg, to Mouth of Colly, 90 miles, next Monday. Thousands of men will be put to work. J. E. Willoughby, of Louisville, chief construction engineer of the road, was here yesterday and left for a trip over the route from Mouth of Colly into the Elkhorn coal field.

Mr. Willoughby says that the remaining sixteen miles of the road from Mouth of Colly into the Elkhorn field will be let October 31. The contract will call for the completion of the road in twelve months. It is understood that the remaining fifteen miles of the road to a connection with the Chesapeake and Ohio, will be let within the next few months.

Mrs. H. A. Scholze Hostess.

On Thursday last Mrs. H. A. Scholze very handsomely entertained the Flinch Club, with several other ladies not members. Mrs. Scholze is not a member of the Club, but having been its guest on several occasions she in turn invited the members to become her guests. There were seven tables, and the afternoon was made a very pleasant one for both entertained and entertainer. The refreshments were seasonable and delicious, and these and the merry games were greatly enjoyed. The non-resident guests were Mrs. J. D. Biggs, of Holden, W. Va., Mrs. J. J. Johnson, of Pikeville, and Mrs. J. C. Thomas, of Wellsville, O.

No Kin to Joe Webb.

Mr. Joe Webb, of Medford, Oregon, and a one time resident of this section, writes to the News enclosing some clippings from an Oregon paper, telling of the trial of a man named W. P. Webb for murder. Mr. Webb is 350 miles from the scene of the tragedy and never heard of W. P. Webb before, but he is afraid some of his Kentucky friends might see the paper and by a great stretch of the imagination think he was akin to the criminal. Those who know Mr. Joe Webb should have no such ideas. Neither do they, in fact, but to please the Kentucky Webb the News makes this statement.

Mrs. Robt. Jordan Dead.

The wife of Robert Jordan died at his home near Walbridge Tuesday, leaving a baby one week old. She had been married about a year and was a daughter of John Moore.

Take in your gates, signs, chairs, boxes, wagons, wells and other out-of-door property before next Monday night. Consult your almanac for the why.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM MANY STATES

Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

Thomas Wayne, the negro charged with the murder of Mrs. John Alliff, at Quinimont, W. Va., was found guilty and the death sentence imposed Monday.

Mrs. Alliff was murdered last August. Her assailant, after beating her husband into unconsciousness, murdered the woman. The husband later identified Wayne as the assailant. After Wayne's capture by the authorities he was hurried from town to town, with mobs gathering all over the vicinity bent on lynching him. He finally landed in the Huntington jail and was later removed to the penitentiary.

Frank N. Cecil, the only man against whom stands an indictment for alleged complicity in the assassination of William Goebel, of Kentucky, ten years ago, was shot in the head and side at 1.30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the cafe of H. E. Leishman, East St. Louis, where he had dropped to sleep after a wakeful night in capturing Leigh Rhodus, the alleged bandit.

Cecil, who is a special agent of the Louisville and Nashville railroad assisted two East side detectives in the capture of the "Candy Bandit" Sunday night. He went all night without sleep. Shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon he entered Leishman's cafe to dine and fell asleep.

Attaches of the cafe spoke to Cecil, to awaken him, Cecil jumped up and pulled his revolver. Louis Leishman, brother of the restaurant keeper, grabbed a pistol and opened fire on Cecil. One bullet lodged in Cecil's head, the other in his side. Ten years ago Cecil, who was a Kentucky mountaineer, was sergeant-at-arms of the Kentucky Legislature in London, Ky.

After Goebel was assassinated Cecil was among those indicted. He probably is the only man who never discussed the affair and the only one against whom an indictment now stands.

Remitted the Remainder.

Acting Gov. Cox remitted the remainder of the jail sentence imposed on S. S. Williams, of Magoffin county, for malicious cutting. He was fined $150 and sentenced to serve six months in jail. He has paid the fine and costs and served most of the jail sentence. Many citizens and county officials asked for the pardon, and it was shown that the man is ill and confined in a crowded unsanitary jail.

A LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

A market for the sale of cattle etc., was opened Saturday, Jan. 1, 1910, at my place at Forks of Catt Sales every two weeks from above date. Convenient pens. Feed reasonable. Scales handy.

Hallowed Ground.

Peter Cave voting precinct, in the good county of Martin, has attractions for some of our Republican friends as a final resting place for their mortal bodies, that are possessed by but few other spots on this mundane sphere. There they fondly imagine they can quietly repose throughout all the ages with never a fear that the hallowed ground will be desecrated by the unsanctified foot of a Democrat. It would be the height of angelic impudence for Gabriel to toot that horn so loudly, or in such proximity to their consecrated resting place on the judgment day as to disturb their peaceful slumbers.

If Peter Cave precinct is set apart as a political graveyard where only Republicans are allowed to be buried we believe the good angel will play his Trombone "softly" when he makes his final round of awakening the sleeping dead.—Licking Valley Courier.

Live Stock Prospects.

The News calls the attention of its stock raising friends to what The Farmers' Home Journal says on a very vital topic:

Never saw such a demand for the best grade feeders and stockers; it looks like the country has awakened to the fact that there is something to cattle feeding besides a probability of making some money—that is reinvigorating and improving farm lands. The demand for choice breeding ewes is holding on later this year than usual; a few months ago when we were getting plenty of choice ewes, it was a hard matter to attract the Kentucky buyer, but now since the receipts are very light, they seem to want them and want them badly. They have all cashed in their lambs and wool, and have figured out that it is too profitable an industry to neglect.

Let the Work Continue.

Menifee Whittaker, the young man from Floyd county, who was arrested here Friday and fined $10 and costs for drinking on C. and O. train No. 3, was released from the city jail Saturday evening, when a relative arrived here on O. and B. S. train No. 39 with the money to liquidate the fine, which totaled $13.90.—Ashland Independent.

MISSIONARY TEA

Webbville.—On Friday evening, October 7, a Missionary Tea was given at the home of Mrs. W. A. Kitchen, president of the Woman's Missionary Union of Willard, Ky., and quite a crowd was present.

At six thirty o'clock those present entered the parlor, where a very interesting program of music, recitations and a talk on Foreign Missions by Mrs. O. H. Burley, was carried out, which was both interesting and instructive to those interested in Missions, after which the beautifully decorated dining room was thrown open and refreshments were served, which are always enjoyable on such occasions. A free will offering was then taken which amounted to about eleven dollars which will be sent to the secretary of the W. M. U. at Louisville, Ky., to be used for Foreign Missions.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Partlow, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Burley and Mother Burley of Paris, Ky., and Grandma Wilson, Mrs. J. M. A Poor Weak Woman

As she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most experienced medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for many years and has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG.

SICK WOMEN WELL.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress,
WM. J. FIELDS,
of Carter County.

Vote for Fields for Congress.

Not one Democrat should stay away from the polls on Nov. 8th.

Fields will be elected if every Democrat goes to the polls.

Every Democrat in this county should feel the importance of his one vote in the coming election. This election is none the less important because the usual whoop and hurrahs are absent. The interest, however, is strong and deep. Don't let yours flag until the polls are closed.

The Democrats of the Tenth Congressional district have not for many years had as strong a candidate as the Hon. Floyd Byrd. He is a man of strong intellect, fine character, correct morals, and extensive training. The next House will be Democratic and he will be an influential member if elected. Reports from the Tenth indicate that he will win.

The present membership of Congress is 21 Republicans and 13 Democrats, with one vacancy. The Democratic Committee claims with confidence that the next House will consist of 208 sure Democrats, 115 sure Republicans, 22 sure insurgent Republicans. Out of the 50 classed as doubtful, the Democrats expect to get at least 12, making the Democratic majority 28 to 35. A landslide may sweep all of the doubtful districts and some classed as safely Republican into the Democratic column.

The Republican plan of a tariff commission to try and discover the difference in the cost of production here and abroad, is just a playing-for-time—until after the presidential election. The present tariff board has been at work for about a year, and no results. At that rate it will take years before any revision would be effected.

His First Vote.

The young man who at each election casts his first vote has never received the consideration to which he is justly entitled. In a majority of cases this first vote decides his party affiliation, hence there should be great solicitude concerning his action. To this young man, the young citizen who is about to declare by his maiden ballot that he is in deed and in truth a citizen, the NEWS holds up the record of Democracy, of the party that has ever fought the battle of the weak against the strong, of the individual against the combinations and the trusts. The old Democratic party stands today where it has stood for a century—the exponent of government of the people, for the people, by the people. It is the party of Jefferson and Jackson. Enlist under their banner.

W. T. Stafford, of Johnson county, will not have his name on the ballot in the Tenth district as an independent Republican candidate for Congress. Mr. Stafford was defeated for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Tenth district. Later he secured a sufficient number of signatures to get his name on the ballot as an independent candidate. He charged the Republican committee of the Tenth district with unfairness in calling the convention which nominated Langley. Mr. Stafford has announced his withdrawal from the race in the interest of A. Floyd Byrd, the Democratic nominee. He announced that he was willing to make speeches in the interest of the Democratic nominee, and Henry M. Cox, the Chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee of the Tenth district, has made a number of speaking appointments for Mr. Stafford. The Democrats are of the opinion that there is considerable disaffection among the Republicans, and that the attitude of Stafford and other independent Republicans will insure the election of Byrd, who is conceded to be a very strong candidate himself.

To have your watch properly repaired take it to Mr. Rollings, at Conley's store. He is an expert watchmaker.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Louisa Like Every City and Town in the Union Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and cure is lasting.

Dr. R. Frasher, Fort Gay, W. Va., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy on the market for kidney and bladder complaint. I have prescribed this preparation in many cases and at the present time, six or eight of my patients are using it with excellent results. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with the most satisfactory results and am loud in my praise of them. The residents of this vicinity suffer considerably from kidney and bladder trouble, due to the poor quality of the drinking water. It has been my experience that all difficulties caused by weak kidneys such as irregular passages of the kidney secretions, gravel, dropsical swellings, lumbago, pains in the back and hips, etc., can be removed by Doan's Kidney Pills. A few doses of this remedy taken immediately when the trouble is noticed will save much misery."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TORCHLIGHT.

Our Sunday school superintended by Rev. Jas Fraley, is progressing beyond our most sanguine expectations. The attendance is increasing, the interest of the scholars attending is earnest and speaks well for the community of Torchlight, giving promise of permanency, our motto being, grow bigger, better and progressive.

The night services are also largely attended by the people of Torchlight and vicinity. The sermons preached are instructive, logical and forcible which cannot fail to bear good results in the service of the Lord.

Our popular and efficient secretary, Howard Hays, has been on the sick list but is improved we believe his sickness is due to heart trouble.

C. V. Bartels, our supt. is having several wells put down from 90 to 115 ft. deep in order to supply the people with pure water, you catch on the Col. when it comes to doing things right.

Our town is fast assuming city airs, we are informed that shortly the L. C. Co., will install electric lights and telephones for those that desire same and by Nov. 1 they expect to have a free delivery system for the convenience of their store patrons.

Order That ROYAL Tailored Overcoat or Suit Today.

The difference between reality and artifice; between the hand-erected and the machine-made; between the painted masterpiece and the printed chromo.

That is the difference between a real Royal-Tailored-To-Order-Overcoat and a ready-made substitute.

There is no reason why you should not have your overcoat built to order. The cost is no greater—and the result is incomparably superior. Pay us a call.

One Doctor—Only One

No sense in running from one doctor to another! Select the best one, then stand by him. No sense either in trying this thing, that thing, for your cough. Carefully, deliberately select the best cough medicine, then take it. Stick to it. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for throat and lung troubles. Sold for nearly seventy years. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Why try this thing, that thing, for your constipation? Why not stick to the good old reliable family laxative—Ayer's Pills? Ask your doctor if he approves this advice.

A Man's Shoe Sold on Manly Principles.

When you put your foot into a "Wolfe's Columbus" Shoe you not only feel the sense of comfort and satisfaction that goes with a high-grade, well-fitting shoe, but you know you are getting a square deal. We not only give you a better shoe than you can buy at even a greater price—but we stand back of them for wearing qualities.

And please remember, we do not sacrifice style, fit or comfort for long service in

"WOLFE'S COLUMBUS" SHOES

All these things have just as much consideration in the making as the wearing quality itself. In fact, they are made in a way that gives them a snap, fit and shape-keeping quality that most shoes don't have. There's a shoe surprise in store for you—at the store that sells "Wolfe's Columbus" Shoes. Insist on them.

To Dealers: Catalogue or Salesman sent on request.

50 Per Cent Better

"I have used less than one bottle of Cardui," writes Mrs. Gertrude Ward, of Rushville, Neb., "and am feeling fifty per cent better than when I began taking it."

"Before taking Cardui, I had suffered with female trouble, for eight years. My greatest trouble was irregularity. I also suffered with severe pains, every month, but now I am greatly improved and will recommend Cardui to all my suffering friends."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

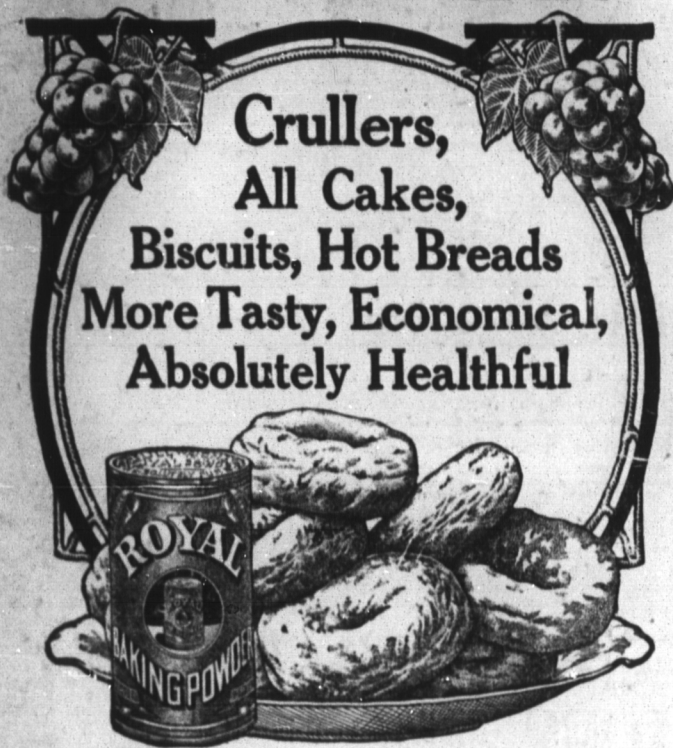

The rare medicinal herbs of Cardui are imported by the manufacturers direct from Europe and are not to be found in any other medicine.

These ingredients are what give Cardui its superiority, as a female medicine and tonic, over any other medicine. For over 50 years Cardui has been the favorite woman's medicine. The ladies like it, because it is so easy to take, so gentle, so safe, so reliable in its results, and they have faith in its curative tonic powers, because of the thousands of other ladies it has helped. Try it today.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

The sweetest and dearest interests of life cluster around our homes. Homes should be the center of our love, the Mecca of all our journeys, the goal of all our endeavors. When home is lost, all is lost.

Children's Eyes.

Allow us to say a few words in regard to the children's eyes. Years ago, when the children studied their lessons from their books, we did not hear very much about their eye giving out. Let us consult our blackboards and see what they can tell us about the world-wide subject.

Parents and guardians all over this broad land, how many hours through the day are your little children sitting in school staring at a blackboard, upon which are placed by the teacher most of the lessons for the day, many times the lines being so fine and pale they could not be easily read more than half or two-thirds the way across the room, but the children are required to see them all the way across and from the remotest corners. Many of the children when first looking at the board do not see much of anything but by looking very sharp for a few seconds the lines reveal themselves. This, my friend, means strained eyes and strained eyes mean weakened or diseased optic nerves, possibly no eyes at all, it all depending upon the severity of the strain. Even when the work is quite distinct, for children who have naturally weak eyes the distance many times is so great that the air waves coming between the poor, tired eyes and the board cause the lines to waver and flicker, and especially in this case when the light is poor and the ventilation bad. Anything put on the board for children to see, whether old or young, should have large proportions and broad, clear lines throughout, so no extra efforts will have to be made to discover it. There is a great difference in eyes; one child will readily see what another could not without the fatal strain.

A Little Friendly Advice.

There are several "don'ts" which should be observed whenever to or more women are gathered together, but which, alas, are frequently disregarded. For instance, don't say to a friend "How stout you are growing." No lady likes to be told that she is growing or has grown stout. If it is a fact she is doubtless quite well aware of it and anxious to keep others from discovering it. Don't say "How well you are looking," it is better to make no remark on the personal appearance of your friend.

Don't tell a friend who has a particularly becoming gown or ornament that she looks ten years younger in that than in anything yet have ever seen her wear. Don't tell her, either, that it is the most becoming thing you have ever seen her wear. This is an impeachment of her taste heretofore, though you probably have no such thought.

Our Duty to the Living.

How often we see the living slighted and neglected, through a long, hard life never cheered by one word of praise or one caress, and when they are still and silent, no longer hearing or heeding, then the words, caresses and tears are not stinted, which during the life would have been welcome, helping them over many rough places.

People kiss the dead who never kiss the living. They hover over open coffins with hysterical sobs, but fail to throw their arms about their loved ones who are fighting the stern battles of life. A word of cheer to the living, to a struggling soul in life is worth all the roses of Christendom piled high on casket covers. The dead can not smell the flowers, but the living can. Scatter them broadcast in their pathway, therefore and pick out the thorns before it is too late.

When it is too late how many quavering regrets it would save us to know that while they were with us we had loved them well, and did not fail to let them know how very dear they were to us.

Healthgrams.

Closed windows are open avenues to consumption.

Strong drink makes weak men. Your lungs can't be washed but they can be aired.

Filth flies and flies for fever. When you don't know what to eat—eat nothing.

Dry-dusting moves dust; it does not remove it.

So-called chest protectors are targets for colds and coughs.

Breathe freely and fully; the more you expand your chest the less you will contract colds.

A fat man is usually cheerful man. He was cheerful before he was fat. (A hint to thin men.)

Floods of sunshine in the home may fade carpets, but it puts the bloom of health upon your cheeks. Take your choice.

There are few, if any, in whom we cannot find something to esteem if we search for it; but we often allow their wrong-doing to form so thick a cloud over their whole nature that all the bright spots are hidden from our view. If we had more of that charity which believeth all things and hopeth all things we should be quicker to detect the good, slower to mark the evil, anxious to bring out and develop the former and glad to cast the mantle of silence over the latter.

NOTES OF THE FARM.

COLUMN OF INTERESTING NEWS THAT WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

The sows that are usually most prolific and that are also usually the best mothers are those that have long, deep bodies with a row of well-developed dugs on each side; that are quiet and dindly disposed, but that are possessed of enough nervous energy to induce them to take plenty of exercise by rustling around when they are given the run of a pasture.

Especially when soft feed is fed, a broad, smooth soard will be found very convenient in feeding chickens either young or old. It is so readily cleaned that all things considered it will be found much more convenient than feeding on the dirty ground, which is inviting disease to your flock.

It is just as sensible to expect to make a crop of potatoes without any attention, as it is to expect the hens to lay eggs in the winter while they are being cared for on the "let-alone" system.

There are instances on record where sheep have produced profitable fleeces of wool and one or two lambs each season for from four to ten years, but as a general rule when a ewe gets to be five years of age she is very likely to prove unprofitable.

Anyone who has had any experience with nursing brood sows knows that while nursing their young pig, they naturally lose in weight and condition even with the best care and feeding bestowed them.

It is generally appreciated among flock owners that in order to obtain the most profit from sheep husbandry stock must be kept; that will produce a maximum quality and quantity of both wool and mutton.

Pumpkins make a splendid feed, and how cheap they are! Nothing will fatten shoats quicker, in connection with a bit of soft corn, and nothing will so thoroughly and efficaciously rid them of worms.

A careful record of what the chickens are doing should be kept. This is the only way to determine the profits from the poultry; in fact it is the only way to carry on any line of farming.

The man who has a uniform bunch of lambs to go to market within the fall is assured of a better price than if his crop possessed a wide variation.

Brood sows expected to produce two litters of piglets a year must not only be fed liberally while they are nursing the pigs, but must also be well fed while they are pregnant.

In dairying there is usually a large quantity of skim milk, or butter milk which may be utilized to furnish a considerable part of the poultry ration.

Turkeys hatched and raised by artificial means at the Washington station weighed 13 to 19 pounds each at five and a half months.

Giving milk is the natural function of the dairy cow, but this function can be stimulated only by proper feed and care.

It is unwise to spend money for better chickens and then give them such poor care that they cannot do well.

An alfalfa patch gives hens and chickens plenty of eating. If you cannot grow alfalfa give alfalfa meal.

The best dairy herds are the product of long, careful selection and breeding.

Hoarseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croup cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison. Sold by all dealers.

TOLD FOR A MEMORIAL OF HER

Matthew 26:1-16—October 30

"She hath done what she could."—Mark 14:9.

In a previous study we considered the Great Teacher's triumphal entry into Jerusalem on the ass, and his tender of himself to the Nation of Israel as their King. In fulfillment of the prophecy of Zechariah 9:9-12. That was five days before the Passover. For several days Jesus taught in the temple, going at night to the home of Lazarus, Martha and Mary at Bethany. He knew what to expect—that his hour was come. He knew that even then, the chief priests and elders of the people were considering his destruction and hesitating only lest it should cause tumult. Their indignation against the Great Teacher was that he did not teach as they taught and that his teachings had much more power with the masses than all their teachings combined. Anger, envy, hatred, united in branding him as an impostor and in sending him to his death, "for the good of the cause."

The feast at Bethany referred to in this study may have been on the night before our Lord's betrayal, two days before the feast of Passover. But the consensus of opinion seems to be that it occurred on the Sabbath evening preceding the triumphal ride to Jerusalem. It matters not, however. There was such a feast. Jesus and his disciples were present. During the feast a woman approached with an alabaster flask of very precious perfume. She poured it upon his head and the entire room was sweet with the odor. The woman was Mary, the Sister of Lazarus and Martha.

Another account shows that the protest made by the disciples against this as a waste was instigated by Judas, the treasurer of the little company of the Lord's disciples. John remarked that he was a thief and carried the bag and intimated that he was more interested in the money than in the poor and that his mention of the poor was merely a subterfuge. But the Great Teacher rebuked his disciples, saying, "Why trouble ye the woman: for she hath wrought a good work upon me; in that she hath poured this ointment upon my body she did it to prepare me for burial. Truly I say unto you, Whosoever this Gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this which this woman hath done be told for a memorial of her" (Matthew xxvi, 10-13). How considerate was the Great Teacher! How sympathetic! How appreciative of everything done for him!

"She Hath Done What She Could"

The Lord, in line with all the Scripture teachings and usages, declines to recognize woman as a teacher of religion in the Church amongst his followers. No woman was given a place amongst the twelve Apostles—not even when the seventy evangelists were sent forth with the simple message, which any woman could have given, surely as glibly as any man, or more so; even on this mission he did not send women, nor even a representative of the sex. The man, in Scriptural usage, is the figure of the Lord; the woman, the figure of the Church. It would be out of harmony with the figure that the Church should be the instructor and the Lord the pupil. Consistently, therefore, it would have been improper for woman to have been commissioned to represent the Lord. Hence, women as teachers in the Church have no authority in the Bible for the position. We read that the serpent beguiled Mother Eve and made of her a teacher of error to her husband. We read that the evil spirits used a certain young woman as a medium to announce the Apostles. But we find no Divine sanction of woman as a teacher in the Church, but that the young woman who acted under the spirit of divination and attempted to preach Christ and the Apostles was rebuked by the Apostle Paul and the spirit of divination dispossessed.

All this, however, does not indicate that either Jesus or the Apostles were either rude toward women or unappreciative of their qualities of heart and mind. Quite the contrary. Amongst the Lord's followers were many "honorable women," and his special love for this Mary and her sister Martha is particularly recorded. Let us learn the lesson from the Book and not attempt to teach the Book.

"The Poor Always With You"

Our Lord, in reply to the argument of Judas, that the ointment should have been sold for a large sum for the benefit of the poor, answered, The poor ye have always with you. Whosoever ye will ye may do them good; but me ye have not always. Poverty is sure to be a factor in the social order during the present time, because, in our fallen condition as a race, some are more brilliant of mind than others and selfishness is the general rule. Hence until the end of the reign of sin and death the poor will be here. And there is a blessing attached to every good deed, every noble endeavor to help any member of the race to higher and better conditions, mentally, morally, physically. By and by there will be no poor, for, under the Kingdom condition, love will be the ruling principle, instead of selfishness.

"But Me Ye Have Not Always"

This was true of the Master. A little while and he was gone from them, ascended to the Father's right hand. The same principle prevails in respect to the Lord's followers styled, "The members of his Body." Whatever we can do for these members, the great Head will consider as though done unto himself. While, therefore, it will always be in order to do good unto all men as we have opportunity, it will always be in order also to do good "especially unto the household of faith."

The spirit of selfishness in Judas led on from one degree to another of covetousness until he was willing to sell his Master to his enemies. Alas, what a terrible power for evil is selfishness! How many are willing to barter the Truth for the sake of worldly ease or prosperity! Such as have the spirit of the Truth to a considerable extent should beware of where selfishness leads if followed—to the Second Death.

Beckette & Co., vs. Goodman, etc., Floyd, was affirmed in the Court of Appeals.

The case of Syck, etc., vs. Heller, etc., Pike, has been reversed in the Court of Appeals.

At Owingsville Floyd Alexander in jail on a charge of attacking 15-year-old Flora Myers, married and was released, but immediately deserted her. He was re-arrested and tried in the Circuit Court and found guilty. The penalty is from two to five years in the penitentiary.

Whitesburg, Ky., Oct. 21.—Quiller Bentley, one of the oldest men in the county, died at his home on Upper Rockhouse Creek, north of here, in his ninety-first year, after a long illness. Mr. Bentley left an estate valued at $75,000, he being one of the wealthiest men in the county, having recently sold the mineral rights on part of his land for $50,000. He was born in Scioto county, O., and came to this State at an early age. His wife, two years his junior, survives him.

The first store that was ever in Hazel Green was owned by two brothers, Joseph and David Butler, (1830) of Mt. Sterling. David was an old bachelor and had charge of the store, though his brother spent much of his time with him, but kept his family at Mt. Sterling. They were related to the Howells, of Montgomery county, and were frequently visited by David Howell, Sr., with his gun and dog to kill birds.

The franchise for installing water and lights in Paintsville was sold at public outcry Saturday to A. S. Bowman and H. H. Hughes, of Huntington, W. Va. W. M. Preston, special commissioner, made the sale. The ordinance granting the franchise provides that work must be started in three months from the date of purchase of same and that the plants must be completed and in order in twelve months.

John Barnett has instituted suit in the Johnson Circuit Court against the Consolidation Coal Co. for $1,900. He alleges that while at work for the company he "was thrown from an open flat-car which had been recklessly and carelessly turned loose by defendant from its train on a down grade without any brakes and plaintiff's arm was broken in three places and he was rendered unable to perform manual labor."

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 20.—William H. May, of Prestonsburg, a Democrat, and W. T. Stafford, of Paintsville, "Progressive Republican," spoke to a large crowd in the courthouse here today. Owing to the intensity of the feeling occasioned by the assassination of Matt Crawford on Wednesday morning and the prompt action by the officers in their speedy enforcement of the law, the crowd was not so large as it would have been otherwise.

Both May and Stafford made excellent speeches in which they predicted overwhelming victory for A. Floyd Byrd, the Democratic nominee, in November. Mr. May devoted the principal part of his time to his inequities of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and scored Mr. Langley's record as being a representative of monopolies and trusts, and showed by his votes that he had been arrayed against the interests of the people. He paid a glowing tribute to the old soldier and closed by an appeal to vote for a man for representative in Congress and not a man a mere cog in a wheel.

Mr. Stafford predicted that the "Progressive" movement in the two great political parties would never die and said the issue before the people today was not so much a political issue as it was a betrayal of a nation by the republican party, and called on the people of Breathitt county to answer by their vote whether the representatives in Congress of the United States have the moral right to repudiate the will of the people plainly expressed before the election.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 21.—That Breathitt county has made a new record for the punishment of crime was evidenced yesterday when Chas. Little, assassin of Distiller, Matt Crawford, was sentenced to death. Little killed Crawford Wednesday night and in thirty-six hours he was arrested, confessed, indicted by a special grand jury, tried and sentenced to pay the penalty for his crime by electrocution. A mob had formed to lynch Little who was started for Lexington under strong guard of eight Deputy Sheriffs.

Little accused of the assassination of Matt Crawford yesterday afternoon confessed and fearing mob violence asked for an immediate trial while the Crawford family and friends were at Athol attending the funeral. Court convened and a jury was hastily impaneled, a plea of guilty entered, a short speech by T. T. Cope asking mercy for the prisoner and followed by a speech by Senator E. E. Hogg, for the Commonwealth.

The jury was out six minutes, and a verdict of guilty with punishment at death by electrocution was returned. Surrounded by several Deputy Sheriffs Little was hastened to the L. and E. railway just in time to catch the train for Lexington, where he was sent for safe-keeping. Excitement was high, and a lynching was averted by quick action.

Mrs. Little, who accompanied her husband on the night of the killing and afterward broke down and confessed, compelling a confession from Little, was released from custody.

Charles Little and his wife had suspicion attracted to them yesterday and were in the act of leaving town when they were detained while a search of their premises was made, which, it is alleged, disclosed a bloody suit of underclothing hid behind a picture on the wall. Immediate arrest followed and Little was found to have a bullet hole through his thigh and still bleeding.

OBITUARY.

Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Spillman on last Saturday morning and claimed as its victim their little babe, Geneva. She was only five months old. She only had a short stay with her parents, brothers and sisters, until God called her home. He said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for such is the kingdom of Heaven." Weep not, dear father and mother, brothers and sisters for little Geneva, for she is where suffering will never be.

A Friend.

To Be Tried Friday.

Marshal Vinson has returned from Prestonsburg, where he had been before the grand jury of the Floyd Circuit Court. He reports that Pete and Tom Blankenship had been indicted for the robbery noticed in this paper last week, and that their trial had been set for Friday, October 28.

The Facts About Pe-ru-na.

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use Peruna as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a toddy, or a bitters, or a bracer?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take this remedy in doses considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. Would the result be alcoholic intoxication? Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medical compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a positive drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a beverage; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for liquors. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHEAP WHISKEY—OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent. of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again that chemists have analyzed Peruna and found it to contain only cubebs and whiskey. Now we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement. Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubebs. Of course, cubebs is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients. It contains hydrastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could so analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of any chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubebs.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be so easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubebs he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to speak the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements, without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Used according to the directions on the bottle, PERUNA IS A SAFE AND RELIABLE CATARRH REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, if taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about which he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an intoxicant; that if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "boomer." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubebs may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this oft-repeated falsehood.
